Anticipation Guide

Part 1. Read the definitions below. Draw an image that represents your understanding of each definition.

Physical geography is the study of the natural features and processes of the Earth.

Human geography is the study of the way human communities and systems interact with their environment.

Part 2. When you hear the word power, what do you think of? Write 5-10 other words that come to mind when you think of power.

Part 3. Write 3-4 sentences about what you already know about ancient Rome right now. You'll have time to revisit what you wrote at the end of the activity.
