

Human Body Microbial Map

Name[s]

Date

DIRECTIONS:

Your teacher will guide you in using the map below to illustrate your and your partner's ideas about:

1. How the human body is organized into systems
2. What kinds of microbes might be found in or on those systems
3. The impacts of the microbes on the body

Get creative—there are no wrong ideas here! Decide with your partner how you will show these different ideas. Include labels and explanations so that someone else can look at your map without needing you to explain it. You will be revisiting your maps over the next few lessons to add new ideas about the human body.
