(b) COOPERATION. If Principal Investigator or Grantee is requested to do so, Principal Investigator or Grantee will cooperate with the Society in the preparation an NGS Product or NGP Product containing an account of the Project. Principal Investigator’s or Grantee’s cooperation will also include being available for consultation at no fee, and providing the Society with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all persons who participated in the Project, whether or not listed on the initial grant application. Grantee also will make the research available to the Society for review and inclusion into any of its works.

(c) COMPENSATION. To the extent the Society asks Grantee to draft or participate in the creation a NGS or NGP Product, Grantee will be paid at the Society’s customary rates for such work including customary credit for such work. The rights to any such work, including copyright and world publication, transmission and broadcast rights, will belong exclusively to the Society. On the date that Grantee files the final field report, Grantee will also submit the Media Assets and Personal and Location releases to impactmedia@ngs.org.

The Society may crop any photographs from the Project and edit footage for time. It shall also have the right to adapt, arrange, rearrange, add to or subtract from the Media Assets, and to combine them with any other materials, music or recordings, and Grantee hereby waives any "droit moral" (moral right) or similar right, to the greatest extent permitted by applicable laws.

Grantee will contact its program officer to request any waiver.

Further, third party sponsor(s) of the Project or the Society may use Grantee's and Principal Investigator's name, voice, likeness and biographical material, or that of any member of the Project, only in connection with such sponsor(s)'s advertising, publicity and promotion of its sponsorship of the Project or the Society, but not as an endorsement for any product or service of such sponsor(s).
