Directions: Select one of the infographics you have viewed during the gallery walk. Respond to the questions below about the selected infographic.

1. What is the title of the infographic you selected?

Healthy Turf. Healthy Kids. Awareness Week July 16-22, 2017

2. What is one responsibility that the infographic highlights?

Children between five and 17 years old should engage in 60 minutes of physical activity a day.

3. Is the responsibility you selected an individual's responsibility, the government's or another's? Explain your reasoning.

The responsibility is an individual's responsibility. In the case of younger children, the parents must make sure the children are getting enough physical exercise, but in the case of older children, they can take on some of the responsibility themselves.

4. Describe the graphic that is used to illustrate this responsibility. Why do you think they chose this graphic?

They used a stopwatch/time graphic because the recommendation is based on time spent in activity.

5. How many different key points are identified on the infographic?

Nine

6. How many different fonts are used on the infographic?

Two

7. How many different colors are used on the infographic? Were some used more than others?

Five. Blue, white, and green were used the most with some red and black.

8. What else has the creator of this infographic done to make it visually appealing?

Designed the background to look like a playground and used graphics to highlight the main points that might also belong outdoors, like a bike, lawnmower, or tree. Used bold-face type to highlight some words in the key points.
